

Sister of the Rose

Mary Magdalene speaks

24 September, 2006

Beloveds, it is Lady Nada with the first of regular missives of peace brought to you by my emissary Tazja Aurora. I bring this day tidings of great peace .. with many dispensations offered those who receive this missive.

Let us begin, beloveds, with the breath, the breath of life .. breathing so deeply of the breath of life .. for it opens the heart, beloveds, it raises the vibration and the velocity at which your energy body vibrates .. and it allows the gentle release of those energies of confusion, of sadness, of distortion and memory which interfere with the peace of mind which is your divine right as a child of God. Breathing deeply, sweet child of God .. lightworker from the heavenly realms, who comes to earth to place your individual and unique key into the lock which is the divine plan for mankind .. in the return of mankind to the peace of God's love.

Many there are who stream upon the earth plane, bringing their instruments of gift from the higher realms, concealed beyond the earthly miseries and buried deep beyond true knowledge of self. For as divine ones come to the earth plane, upon entering this place of denseness, the veil of forgetfulness of origin falls .. and dims the knowledge of self .. and the earthly duality entombs in forgetfulness.

My role is for those lightworkers .. to bring tidings of remembrance, that all may know of their origins, and may receive remembrance. I come accompanied by many leagues of angels .. and our role is in dispensations offered to those lightworkers .. to ease the load of earthly life .. to remove the karmic oppressions that bind and burden .. for with Lady Quan Yin, Lady Portia and the Great Divine Director we form the Karmic Board .. and such great desire there is in the heavenly realms that as many karmic constraints as may be possibly taken from you .. are released. For you hold many karmic memories and experiences, behaviours, beliefs, thought forms and programs .. as records, akashic records .. and these are held within the individual chakras of your energy body .. and the records you hold in your energy body draw to you experiences which will ultimately result in your moving through initiations .. and creating a new paradigm of behaviour, of reality .. based on the wisdom gained upon your walk through these initiations. But beloveds, the burden you find in walking through these initiations is beheld by us with much regret .. and within my role .. and within the Karmic Board .. there is the desire and the wish that many dispensations of relief from karmic burden .. may be brought to earth .. and that incomplete initiations of great complexity and burden, sometimes beyond endurance .. be taken from you. This is my role.

Allow now the chakra column to open, all of the individual chakras of your channel of light. We start with the heart, for the heart indeed has the capacity to open all of the chakras .. breathing deeply and opening the heart, unfurling like a lotus flower as the first rays of the sun reach its petals, the light and the warmth of the rays allowing the heart to unfurl .. and to open wide. Breathing into the heart now, and expanding in the love that you are .. experiencing this love .. and expanding further into that love.

And the emissaries of love and of light from Arcturus and Andromeda, from Sirius and the Pleiades come now, bearing their gifts of light technology .. releasing from the heart those careworn sadnesses and griefs. Breathing as all pain releases.

And opening the higher heart, the thymus, the connection with All That Is.

And the throat, breathing into the throat and allowing the removal now of all fear of speaking your truth, of speaking truly of that which you are and that which you hold, all timidity to stand forward and to bask in your divinity is released from your throat chakra. Archangel Michael steps forward with his Sword of Truth, removing all obstacles which prevent your truth, your divinity, from being expressed upon earth. Receiving this, with the breath. Expanding with the breath as all releases.

Breathing, and opening the brow chakra, where are held constrictions resulting from memory and experiences from aeons past .. releasing the records and memories held in the brow.

And breathing as the crown chakra opens wide .. and as the emissaries of light allow this chakra to be opened most wide .. so that your ability to transmit and to receive the influx of divine light is increased. And breathing up the energy of the heart.

And there are higher chakras .. the Soul Star, the Aum chakra .. and many others .. and these are activated for you by the emissaries of light .. and mention is made that the regular opening of your Rainbow Bridge, your channel of light, will enable the activation and restoration of your galactic chakra column .. for it is use, combined with Source energy, which has the capacity to restore your divine nature upon earth and to restore your light body. Regular opening of your channel of light, your Rainbow Bridge of light will result in the restoration and the activation of your galactic chakras and body of light. Breathing up through the higher chakras, through the Suns and Moons, the celestial realms, the galactic realms, the universal realms, the cosmic realms .. to Source and to Father/Mother God/Goddess. And as you connect with the Source realms, expanding further in love, as your heart opens more widely and your chakras expand and vibrate with love.

Merging now with God Presence and commanding God Presence to descend and to align with your Rainbow Bridge of light. And breathing in this love, this great expansion and love.....

Breathing into your hara, your centre of power at your navel, as an amethyst crystal is placed within this chakra .. restoring your centeredness, your place of solidity and of certainty and of balance.

Opening the lower chakras now, the solar plexus .. and as the breath expands, the emissaries of light release from this chakra those fears which constrict and bind and freeze you, inhibiting your stepping forward upon your divine path .. for many fears are held within this chakra of the light body of those other lifetimes .. both upon earth and in the other realms .. of all that you have experienced across all the ages .. and you have made incarnation in this lifetime so that the complete healing and release of these fears may occur.

And the burden is clear in your walk through this path of initiation of overcoming ancient fears .. and in addition there are the fears of the collective consciousness which overwhelm ..surrounded as you are by the fear of humanity.

My emissaries of angelic intervention come now to place shields of violet light around the extremity of your light bodies .. that you may receive protection from the thought forms of the collective consciousness .. and may be enabled to break free of your own fears without the burden of the collective's thought forms which are otherwise so all pervasive.

And a sapphire crystal is placed within the solar plexus .. enabling transmutation of all fears held as karmic records .. to free you of these disabling fears .. so you may walk forward upon your path in freedom. There is the desire to make your path through initiations as graceful and as painless as possible. And as you visualise the sapphire crystal now held within your solar plexus .. I ask that you now offer to me all of the fears that you have which burden your life and which prevent your graceful steps forward into the light of your divinity. Those fears of lack of self worth, of not being good enough .. the doubt of your courage to move forward .. to move beyond situations which do not serve you .. to move beyond the patterns of the past which though they are known, and there is comfort in their 'knownness' .. are destructive to you and hold you bound in limitation and disempowerment. Offer these to me, all of your fears .. and the sapphire crystal allows the absolute annihilation of these fears. These are the dispensations I bring to light workers.

Breathing into the sacral chakra, the seat of creativity and of sensuality. A crystal of amber is placed within this chakra, enhancing the creative power and gifts you hold .. for your gifts are many .. only fear and doubt prevent your bringing forth your gifts of magnificent creativity. Fears and doubts which are transmuted by the amber, a heavenly gift, that you may find the freedom of expression of your divine gifts .. for you have a unique and beautiful gift for mankind .. and it is the creativity centre, heightened and strengthened, restored to original blueprint, which allows your expansion into your creator self.

To your base chakra, where is placed a glowing ruby, alight with power, with vitality, with passion, with excitement for all that life offers. For the joys of earthly life are varied, and many. And it is wished that you accept and enjoy all of life's pleasures, without limitation .. for lack is not expected of you, nor is limitation. You are asked to expand your beliefs about that which you may receive .. to raise the standard .. to set your mark high of that which will bring ease to your physical life. Experiencing the energy of the ruby within your base, expanding, providing a great security and a solidity and a certainty that your physical needs are cared for.

I ask that you now hand over to me all of the burden of your physical existence .. to offer to me those challenges you face of physical survival .. and to ask now for those 7 items that would allow most ease to enter your life .. and do not limit yourselves .. for there is no limit to that which the heavens may provide. For as lightworkers you are most fully held and supported, provided for, guided and loved. Ask for that which will bring most ease to your life in this coming week .. and in this coming year and beyond. Ask to have provided that which will bring most ease and comfort to your physical life. For there is no requirement that you live in lack of any of the earthly pleasures .. this is a self-made requirement .. based upon ancient records and fears held within your base chakra .. allow as special dispensation that these ancient records, limitations, fears, doubts and worries be taken from you. Allowing a great expansion now of your being .. accepting the release of all insecurity of physical survival. All releasing, beloveds.

And breathing as the link chakra between the knees is restored now and activated .. for the link is the connector between your physical life and your spiritual life .. often missing and incomplete.

To the earth star chakra which is beneath your feet .. again restored for you and activated, for this chakra is most often incomplete .. and without this chakra you are not fully able to be upon the earth plane, connected and secure and able to ground and anchor your life and your projects.

Breathing down to the centre of the earth, and we ask now the Middle Earth templeworkers and the ancient ones, the Inner Earth guardians to assist to secure and to anchor your Rainbow Bridge of light deep within the core of the earth, connected firmly to the crystal heart of Gaia. Without the anchoring of your energies deep within the earth, you are unable to receive the nurturance of Gaia, and the provision of your earthly needs. Breathe into Gaia's heart, and accept her love, her support, her nurturance. All the cornucopia of God's garden of earthly pleasures is available to you with connection of your column of light into the core of the earth. For without this, you are not really upon the earth, not able to bring to earth your divine abilities and gifts and to ground these for your own use, and the use of others.

And as you breathe Gaia's energy up into your heart, the love of your God Presence merges with the love of Gaia .. bringing such great expansion. Breathing into this expansion, enjoying the lightness and the joy it brings, your light body aflood now with light, your vibration increased so greatly, spilling out through your crown chakra and overflowing into your light body. Aflood with rainbow golden light, expanding, spreading wider and wider with light and with love.

And as you expand into that love, a golden rod is placed within your Rainbow Bridge, firmly connecting you to the Source realms and to earth core, Mother Gaia .. strengthening your Rainbow Bridge, enhancing, empowering, widening your column of light .. as all obstructions are removed from your chakras and the free flow of light and love from both heaven and from earth is allowed to move freely and fully.

As a message of love I offer guidance that daily use of this meditation, opening your Rainbow Bridge daily and connecting with God Presence, and with Gaia, increases at a great exponential rate the velocity at which your light body is able to vibrate, and widens your flow of energy. And with your widened flow of Source energy, much inspiration is able to be pulsed to you by your Family of Light. Messages of guidance may be received .. through the heart's beautiful wisdom and ability of 'knowing' .. for the gift of knowing is that which is most easily able to be accessed by you. Though vision of the third eye and clairvoyance is enjoyable and entertaining .. the gift of knowing contains the heart's wisdom .. and your heart knows all, contains knowledge of all that you have ever been, knows of your highest and best qualities and gifts. Ah, the journey of the heart. Such a journey of enlightenment .. to open the heart and to hear its messages of beauty and wisdom. For the heart knows the way Home .. and will lead you there upon your easiest path. Will guide you and take you Home upon the most direct route .. without the need to take those irritating side paths which delay and confuse and lead in wrong directions. The journey of the heart is the one we all aspire to live and to learn. All the heaven's wisdom is contained within the heart.

And my pearl of wisdom is now placed within your heart .. to allow remembrance of your heart's highest dreams and yearnings .. to allow you to hear your heart's urgings and messages of guidance and wisdom. To allow connection with your heart, to allow healing and restoration of your heart .. for it is seen that you hold much careworn sadness within the heart, and there is tiredness .. for you have walked this path of service so many times before .. and many times you have given of your all, your heart, your soul, your physical being .. and still there has been failure by mankind to heed the messages you bring, to accept the love and the gifts you bring to restore all to love. Many are the times when civilisations have fallen, and you have come to the physical plane at those times of physical need by mankind, and given your all .. and it was not enough. And there is tiredness within you, at the request that you be present again in time of need by mankind .. and the fear is there that again there will be failure .. and that your efforts will go unheeded. And my message of love is that there will be no failure on this occasion .. for the Golden Age is upon us .. and all has been put in place .. so many stream to the earth plane to play their role of love and service. And never before have the heavens been so close to earth, with so much of assistance and guidance available to its lightworkers. And so many Ascended Masters and celestial ones, emissaries of love and of light watch over and guide, support and love you.

And regret there is of the times when you have been called upon in service .. and have yourself become burdened with the denseness and duality of the earth plane, and have sometimes become caught in this duality .. and these are the energies you bring to the earth plane on this occasion for healing. You have agreed to incarnate on this occasion so that the akashic records of duality, distortion and anomaly you have incurred in previous lifetimes may be healed. And such a great opportunity is given you that you may free yourself of these limiting wounds and memories.

But we see the tiredness and the burden you feel .. held as you are by the records and memories of fear and doubt and disconnection from the heavenly realms .. of lack of belief of your own divine nature .. of lack of belief that there is any support for you by your Family of Light .. of fear of physical survival .. and feelings of inability to support yourself adequately.

We see the steep path you walk to completion. And give you our assurances that you are not alone upon this walk, never alone. You are held and supported, surrounded and loved by so many legions of angels and Ascended Masters, and many emissaries of light from the higher dimensions support your walk with energy healing and restoration during your sleep state. The veils of forgetfulness enshroud your being as you descend to earth .. and it is clearly seen the struggle sometimes to believe, to truly believe, to fully believe, that which your heart knows as truth .. that you are indeed a special being of light with a role of beauty to play for mankind .. and to truly believe that you are held and supported by so many.

And your heart crystal receives restoration, the pearl of wisdom expanding with light, and emanating such love and light and remembrance .. as memory returns to you within your heart of your divine state .. and memory returns and connection is made with your Family of Light who stand before you now. Breathing so deeply, as they stand before you and pulse you with healing rays of such beautiful love .. all of the healing coloured rays of the celestial realms are pulsed into your heart, expanding your heart with remembrance, with joy, with love .. and overflowing through all your chakras and filling your light body with all the celestial heavenly light.

Beloveds, I am most particularly able to be connected with each time you open your Rainbow Bridge to Source and to Gaia .. present at those times, accompanying you, pulsing you with sweet love and messages of guidance and inspiration. Much honour is given you for your role and path of light. You are not alone, never alone. I am Lady Nada.
