

Sister of the Rose

Mary Magdalene speaks

#9 19 June, 2007

Beloveds, it is Lady Nada with another of a series of regular missives of peace brought to you by my emissary Astrea Aurora. I bring this day tidings of importance for workers of the light and many dispensations to free the mental body and mind of those cluttered preoccupations of the collective consciousness .. offered all those who receive this missive.

Breathe deeply and allow the body to sink deep into relaxation. Allow your being to accept the sweet blue rays of truth which flood your being as Archangel Michael raises his Sword of Truth and casts its healing rays within your mind and mental body, healing those obsessive thought patterns and preoccupations the mind has become fixed in, and casting from your being those thought patterns of the collective consciousness. Allowing your being to relax further now and to give yourself to surrender. For surrender is required. The mind has held for so long onto its obsessive wish to know all, to control all, and the pattern has become so engrained .. and totally unconscious .. that total surrender is required today .. wishing to be free of those obsessive thought patterns which have bound you and humanity for so long.

Breathing deeply now beloveds, and accepting the blue healing rays in their varying hues and degrees of brilliance .. of aquamarine and turquoise, of soft blues, and deep blues, of midnight indigo and of azure blue, and soft baby tones of blue .. to enter your being, to fill your aura, to enter all of your chakras, and to overflow into your energy body, filling all bodies and diamond plates, healing all, bringing sweet peace and quiet to your being .. allowing surrender. And the heart is filled with the healing blue rays, allowing the heart to surrender also, and to rest .. and to know that its yearnings for peace are heard .. and are fulfilled.

And breathing deeper now to allow the heart to open more wide, accepting the healing rays of blue, allowing to reach all corners of the heart, reaching all sadnesses and disappointments.

Breathing and accepting the blue rays to flood all of your being, calming those fears and doubts held in the solar plexus, taking from you the fear, dissolved in the blue ray of God's truth.

Flooding through all of your being .. into your base chakra, and dissolving those survival issues you hold .. the aloneness you feel, your separation from God and from these realms .. all the pain of separation from these realms is dissolved by the blue ray of god's love. For never are you separate from these realms .. only the mind's intricate imaginings and mankind's stories of God give rise to this belief. Dissolving those beliefs now, and taking away the uncertainty, hesitation, doubt, fear, anxiety, worry. For the mind has all of these wondrous abilities .. and is very free with its offerings, sending these wondrous thoughts and feelings, uncertainties, hesitations, doubts, fears, anxieties and worries into all of your chakras.

And breathing and relaxing deeply, as the blue rays flood your hara, your centre of power, relieving you of its burdens of inability and confusion ... doubt... hesitation.. and fear. Fear of your own power, fear of its might, fear of its lack, doubting you have power one moment .. and in fear of your integrity in using your power in the next moment. And accepting the healing blue rays which stabilise your power centre, alleviating the fears and doubts, and providing balance. For indeed your power centres are powerful .. but wounded by those experiences in other ages, when others have taken your power and used it, and of other times when you have been punished and suffered greatly for your power .. and your hara holds ancient fears and doubts .. and the blue sword of truth cuts to the core those ancient fears and experiences, releasing .. leaving your hara pulsing with blue light, free of taint and burden, pulsing sweetly and powerfully with the blue light of truth.

Relaxing deeply as the blue rays pour into your throat, healing in its sweet balm the ancient fears held within the throat and jaw, the seat of much tension, holding so much pressure and tension in the throat and jaw and mouth. So many experiences and memories are held within this chakra and throat area. Opening your mouth a little now and relaxing your jaw, as the healing blue rays fill this area .. taking these ancient sadnesses and feelings of being overwhelmed .. by sadness, by responsibility for the sadness of mankind .. by all that you have seen and observed and experienced across the ages .. of those times when you have spoken with love, knowing so much truth within you, and wishing to share this truth, and receiving punishment in ancient times, shunned by others for the truth you held within you.

Receiving the blue rays to heal all, taking from you these memories which prevent the entire opening of the power within your throat and voice. For you hold immense power within your throat .. and your words and your voice are powerful creators .. with power to walk across others' hearts and minds when used in love .. and to walk across the dimensions in song and in the language of light, and to bring forth from these realms all the healing power and love of the heavens. Your voices hold sublime beauty and power. Such power is contained within your voices. And when you open to sing the language of love from the galaxy from which you originate .. do you realise the power you are expressing upon the earth plane .. bringing forth the healing and creative abilities of your galactic self .. bringing these gifts and abilities as tools of healing and of creation. Relaxing further as your throat and mouth and jaw are replenished with the healing rays of blue light I offer, loosening the tension and anxiety completely, allowing the mouth and jaw to receive the calming peace .. as tension releases and is dissolved.

And the Blue Dove of Peace is placed within your mind and mental body. For there is not much of peace within the mind at present .. so many large and small thoughts, anxieties, fears and doubts are contained in the mind. And the Dove of Peace may flutter its wings and gently ruffle and detach and release all of these thoughts, uncertainties, fears, worries and anxieties .. detach and release and brush away all of the mind's concerns, obsessions, fears, doubts, worries.

And I say to you that so many of the fears held within the mind are those which in truth are not your worries and fears .. but are those of the collective consciousness, and some are more particularly of the feminine consciousness, and some of the masculine. And as Michael raises his blue sword of truth, he brings it now through the collective consciousness of mankind .. to unbind you and to free you of those fears and doubts of mankind. And say that these feverish ideas and worries and fears are enlarged and played upon by the media and those who have interest in ensuring the continuation of mankind's obsession with these fears and worries .. wishing mankind to be bound by fear and uncertainty. And suggestion is made that you detach yourself from the frenzy of the media to disempower and to create fear and confusion.

And you are freed now by the sword of truth, as you are cut away from the collective fears of all of mankind. Breathing and relaxing as this occurs, freeing you from the stain which surrounds humanity .. of imagined fears and worries and constant obsessive thoughts. Breathing and accepting this freedom within your mind, allowing your thoughts to be your own. Allowing the love which is in your heart to filter to your mind, and to be expressed through your mind, allowing your thoughts to be those of love and not of fear. Allowing creative thoughts to be allowed free. Allowing the pulses of guidance and love which are sent to you by the angels and Masters and those of the heavenly realms .. to be heard .. to be put into place and used. Allowing the background noise within the mind to cease. Allowing freedom to hear these messages of inspiration and guidance .. free of the noisy mind chatter. For the mind is never still, always has stories to tell, wishing to control everything, wishing to know everything, wishing to get in the way of the divine flow .. and to force events to occur .. having no faith in the divine flow .. and wishing to force by will those events which the mind thinks it has need to enforce.

And so much of unhappiness and dissatisfaction is caused by the mind and its urgings to want .. to need .. to do .. to have .. to say .. to be in control. And how can the flow of divine guidance ever be heard when the mind is so busy listening to and creating its own universe .. when all the time the heavenly flow is there .. to bring you all that your heart requires .. but the mind is so busy and obsessed with its universe .. that it does not see that which the Flower of Life and the Unified Field bring .. wishing to get in first, with its obsessive desires and thoughts .. not wishing to wait for the divine plan, not trusting it, doubting it completely .. and feeling the necessity to do all alone. Such hubris has humanity .. thinking it alone may control and bring to fruition its own selfish desires. Such confusion there is .. and unhappiness .. such dissatisfaction .. one wish fulfilled .. and immediately the need and desire for something new arises .. ever dissatisfied .. always wishing, needing, wanting, doing. Never seeing the divine plan, never hearing the divine guidance, never waiting for the divine flow of life to carry one, at the exact time .. to take advantage of all that is sent. But cutting off the divine flow, in obsessive need to get there first.

And analogy is given of the flow of life as a divine river. And with the heart open, and without the need to control the destination, or the method of journeying to that destination .. one may sit quietly by this river of life .. awaiting that moment, with joy and trust in one's heart, when there appears around a bend in this river of life a graceful boat .. and stepping gracefully onto the boat, which contains divine provenance and opportunity .. and sitting joyously in this boat and looking around at the abundance and beauty and deep experience through which you flow .. being carried to your destination gracefully, without hardship .. and stepping out onto the platform of inspired opportunity .. and gathering up all of your skills and talents and gifts and making use of these to take advantage of the divine opportunity given, with trust in your heart, and joy at the perfection which is divine plan.

But humanity, in its haste and its doubt, mistrust, and not wishing to surrender to the divine plan, in case it is not what the mind wants .. is not able to sit patiently by the river of life, awaiting the divine flow and the divine moment .. but accepts the mind's urgings to walk beside the river, looking for the boat, and stumbling and becoming exhausted in this journey of looking for the boat, and then, not accepting that there is no boat yet, placing together those pieces of material he finds here and there, and painfully pulling these from varying places, miles distant, obsessively making a type of boat, suffering and confused and not knowing how he will make the boat, but obsessed with the idea that alone he must build a boat .. and time and again attempting to successfully construct this boat and .. finally placing it in the water, but it is not seaworthy and so again it must be rebuilt .. until finally it is again placed in the water, and fearfully sitting in this structure which is a little like a boat, perched on top and holding on for dear life, the boat like structure finds itself in rapids, and traverses the rapids, going under the water, and coming up, and struggling to remain afloat, and going under again, and again coming up and struggling for air, and desperate, praying to God .. where are you God, why have you abandoned me in my hour of darkness .. coming to a deep waterfall .. and managing to steer the boat to the side of the river .. and to swim exhausted to the riverside .. and to reach the safety of the shore .. and to sit quietly, having reached safety .. but with the mind already wondering what to do next. And wandering a little down the side of the river .. and seeing a beautiful boat floating by .. and rushing to meet that boat .. but too tired by the experiences just past, unable to reach the boat .. and sadly watching it disappear from life .. lost opportunity, bad timing, missed the boat. The boat of the flow of life.

And judgement of man and man's amazingly inventive mind there is not. We see the confusion and the pain caused by the collective experiences of man over the ages .. we see the desperation of mankind at this moment .. and its confusion and pain. Judgement is not held. Only the wish to assist humanity to detach from this mass of confusion and pain. And beloved, to assist in every way possible that you be restored to your original divine blueprint, that in mastery you may bring those gifts you have for humanity .. and we say that there are many lightworkers upon the earth, and more are streaming in from the heavens daily, each with his own mastery and gift .. and that it is in this way that mankind will receive freeing from the confusions and pains of the collective. And as each of you is freed from this collective web of pain and confusion .. allowing your light and your love to freely flow .. then all will receive the benefit of this love and this light.

So let us begin beloveds, by detaching the mind from the collective. Breathing deeply, as St Germain anchors his violet chamber of light over your beings, and frees your mind and mental body of the collective clutter and obsession. And the violet light burns fiercely through all of man's illusions and delusions, freeing you from the collective web of darkness.

Surrender to this process beloveds, for it will set you free. And see how your obsessive need to control all has led to only attachment, to pain, to sadness, to lack, and to fear. Surrender beloveds to the divine flow of life. To the divine plan for you. Allow the trust to fill your being, and to know with certainty that you are so cared for and guided and loved by those guardians of light who surround you always. Who carry you along the river of life, divinely guided and supported and loved .. taken along the flow of the river of life freely, gracefully, easily, to your every destination.

For if the mind will only let go of its obsessive need to control, to know, to interfere, then it may open to completely trust and to accept the divine intervention of those who surround you and support you, who guide you and love you. Allow trust to fill your being, accept our love. Feel this love .. open to this love .. and surrender to this love. Allow this love to take you to your destination .. and know that you will not be misguided or led astray.

Fully open to the flow of this love .. and all will be as it should be, and there will be such fulfillment in this for you .. as struggle will leave your side, and need not be encountered again. All you need will be provided to you .. in complete abundance it is your right to live and to love and to experience. Allow yourself to be detached from the collective fear patterns .. and to trust.

And pondering now quietly on some of the patterns of your mind which you may identify .. those which have caused you struggle and hardship, doubt, fear, anxiety.....

And allow Michael's sword of truth to cut these from your being, all of these struggles, and doubts, fears, anxieties. Breathing and accepting the cutting away from your mind of all of these limiting patterns.

As I place within the mind an opalescent pearl of truth that provides protection from the collective consciousness .. enabling only truth to be known in your mind, freeing your mind that it may be used as the amazing storehouse of creativity that it is, that it may be used in troubleshooting and in interpretation, in bringing to you the divine messages which are impulsed through you. In creativity. For the brain is an immense organ of creativity.. and there are areas of the brain completely unused .. and with the brain and the mind now free of the clutter and chatter .. it is free to be creative .. and to allow those areas of the brain which have been latent and unused in mankind in centuries .. to flower, to open, to flourish.

And placing the pearl of truth into the base chakra, the seat of the abundance of God's love and service to you .. allowing now a clearing of all that limits your receipt of this abundance and security .. allowing the ancient blocks to the flow of abundance, to plenty, to fulfillment in physical life .. to release .. as the angelic ones come to your assistance, wishing to alleviate your physical distress .. these ones who know of God's ever present and never ending love for you .. the angels wish with all of their hearts that you may know of that which it is possible for you to receive .. but which you block with your doubts and fears. The angels so many times see how you block the ever abundant flow of God's love and abundance .. and the universal flow which is inherent within the Divine Plan is not seen, not accepted, not followed. How the mind and its wishes and desires and needs gets in the way of the Divine Plan within which you are totally supported.

Allow the mind this moment to accept a relaxation of its strong needs and desires .. to let go of the pain of that which is unrequited, unreceived .. and allow your being to open to that which is .. to let go of the pain of that which you do not have .. and to open to trust in your path, in the Divine Plan. Allow yourself to open to that which is .. and to drop that which is not .. for it causes such distress and pain, such doubt and mistrust .. and stands in the way of receiving that which is, that which is yours in the universal flow of life.

Beloveds, if you will surrender this moment to that which is, you allow the universal flow of life to flow right into your being .. able to receive all that which streams towards you. Beloveds, if you will allow this moment the surrender to the flow of God's love .. allowing the need to direct this flow to drop away .. allowing yourself just to receive all that is pulsed to you .. there will be a great acceleration of your path .. for within this surrender you will gain trust in this flow. And when you have totally regained your trust that all that you require in your physical journey is always provided .. then a great leap forward is allowed to occur. Great leaps and bounds of faith arise within your being. And the ancient blocks and obstructions to abundance fall away .. replaced with trust .. with joy .. with gratitude.

Such liberation occurs of the mind and the being when gratitude is the emotion which you express .. when gratitude is inherent within you .. alongside that of love. All comes to you in that space of gratitude and love. There is no obstruction, there can be no obstruction .. when you are filled with gratitude and love. Surrender into this now beloveds, if you will .. and open to gratitude and to love.

Beloveds, we surround you with our energies of love and of support. With Germain and the Lord Michael, I am with you constantly as you continue to free the mental body and mind. And at 9am and 5pm especially, dispensations of assistance and rays of truth are pulsed through your being .. and you may request anything specifically which you are requiring assistance with at these times .. and know that you are heard, and all is put into place to heed your request and to assist you.

Beloveds, go in peace. I Am the Lady Nada
